Leading global law firm recommits to Global Sponsorship Program

WAKEFIELD, Mass., U.S. – Oct. 14, 2009 – The International Technology Law Association (ITechLaw; <http://www.itechlaw.org/>) announced today that Duane Morris (<http://www.duanemorris.com/>) has renewed its status as a Bronze sponsor in the ITechLaw Global Sponsorship Program. Duane Morris is a full-service law firm with more than 700 attorneys in 24 offices in the United States and internationally.

"The ITechLaw community has enjoyed collaborating closely with Duane Morris on many activities over the past year, and our members have benefited greatly from their support," said Ursula Widmer, president of ITechLaw and founder of Dr. Widmer & Partners of Bern, Switzerland. "We are pleased that Duane Morris has likewise seen the value in its sponsorship and has chosen to renew it. Together, we will continue to keep our members informed and connected on cutting-edge IT legal topics."

"ITechLaw is a leader in serving and connecting the technology law community worldwide," said Sandra Jeskie, partner at Duane Morris and co-chair of the firm's Information Technologies and Telecom interdisciplinary practice group. "The combination of the organization's events and resources, particularly in North America, Europe and Asia, and Duane Morris' presence and intense interest in those regions makes this sponsorship a perfect match."

Jeskie has been a member of ITechLaw's Board of Directors since 2003 and currently serves as Vice President.

As a Bronze Sponsor, Duane Morris is entitled to participate in communications opportunities such as inclusion in the ITechLaw newsletter and networking with other ITechLaw members.
